ICC Says Yes To Removal Of Giddings Line

Officials of the T&NO Railroad have notified county officials of plans to abandon the Cameron-Giddings line some time in the next two weeks.

In a letter to the county judge's office, an attorney for the rail line, generally known as Southern Pacific, said that final approval for removing the line had been granted December 19, 1958 by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Rail officials first sought abandonment of the line in 1957, claiming an annual $100,000 loss.

Attorneys for the line wrote in their notice to the county that the ICC found this bridge traffic could be handled by the railroad just as well via Caldwell as over the segment sought to be abandoned.

The letter went on to say that abandonment of the line would save $100,000 annually.

The T&NO still continues service by that line from Waco to Cameron.

During the summer of 1957, a commission of county leaders was formed to meet with a group in Giddings to attempt forestalling removal of the line.

Officials said they were successful in delaying the abandonment pending final hearing by the ICC in Washington, D.C.

The ICC reversed the opinion of the examiner who heard briefs for and against the line's removal at Giddings.

Rail officials said one main crossing had become unsafe and that replacement would have been prohibitive since the line was losing money.

Not Much Of A Haul

Burglars Hit School

Unknown professional burglars pried their way into the Cameron school tax and superintendent's offices December 30 and escaped with $25 in cash.

County Atty. Robert Nelson said that similar break-ins occurred over the holidays at the Rockdale and Thorndale schools.

Supt. Wiley Loughmiller said the burglars, apparently pros, gimmicked locks and broke one door in entering the two offices. It looked like a professional job, he continued, because papers had been checked, then replaced.

Police authorities called in state fingerprint expert to take samples of fingerprints believed to be those of the burglars.

Loughmiller said the entries must have been made sometime between 6 p.m. December 30 and 7 a.m. the following morning. School janitors reported the break-ins Wednesday morning, December 31.

The city school superintendent noted that a school policy of not keeping sums of money on premises precluded a large loss.

Nelson said that the thieves overlooked some $60 in a file they neglected to rifle.

Authorities said that the doors and locks had been pried open apparently with special tools only professional burglars would use.

No signs of vandalism were reported by officials.

Council Stays Action On Jail Bids Submitted

The City Council Tuesday night heard a report on 1958 city fire losses and delayed letting of bids on the proposed city jail.

In a letter to the council, Fire Marshal John Eanes reported that $16,639.96 in insurable losses were reported for the year, a reduction of almost $2,000 in fire damage over 1957. Losses in 1957 were $18,360.00.

Eanes' letter indicated that the lower loss in fires during the year would reduce the fire insurance penalty rate this year.

The Council opened bids on the budgeted $3,500, two-cell jail, but found the two lowest bids over the budget limit.

Two Jail Bids

Bids of $3,765 from Hughes Construction Co., Cameron, and $3,975 from Coffield Construction Co., Rockdale, were tabled pending final action by the Council.

In other action, the Council approved a final payment to Graham Construction Co., Cameron, for $5,721 for construction work on the new city sewerage disposal plant. It was the final payment on the City project.

A representative of the Joe J. Rudy Co., Fort Worth consulting engineers, gave final approval before Council action.

City approval was granted to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce to hold the annual February Stock Show at the Courthouse square February 6.

Approval followed a request by Richard Moseley, Chamber manager and councilman.

Fulfill Agreement

The city also agreed to fulfill an agreement with Burkes-Howard Co. to emplace a door on the north side of their building after the company gave the city right-of-way for the widening project on US 77 in 1955.

City fathers also voted to call for bids on leasing the west half of the city park located at East Fourth St. and North Fannin. Lease time would be one year, officials said.

In final action, the Council voted to put $20,000 in time deposits in both Cameron banks.

Farm Bureau Board To Have Steak Treat

Bill Arthur, service agent for the Milam County Farm Bureau, will be host for a steak dinner, tonight, January 8, for the Farm Bureau Board of Directors.

O. G. Tumlinson, president, announced that the regular board meeting would follow the dinner at Kathy's Cafe.

Mrs. Sanders Chooses 49th As Future Home

Mrs. Billie Sanders, Cameron, has decided to see for herself the wonders of the United States' 49th state.

She will leave about March 1 for Alaska where she hopes to find a job and make her home.

Mrs. Sanders has been county office clerk at the Milam Farmers Home Administration for the past 3 years.

Boss Roy Wright looks on the proposed trip as an adventure, but is not anxious to give up such an experienced and able office assistant.

Mrs. Sanders has one advantage over most pioneers. A member of her family has "blazed the way" and sends glowing reports from Juno.

Her sister and family have lived in Juno, Alaska for the past year and have decided that it is where they choose to stay.

Mrs. Sanders reports that they have three school-age children who also endorse Alaska as the perfect place to live.

Originally from Bristol, Okla., Mrs. Sanders was a resident of Fort Worth for many years where she started her career with the FHA. She hopes to find interesting work in Alaska after she has settled in her new home.

Mrs. Sanders plans to fly to Alaska leaving from Fort Worth with one stop in San Francisco. She will visit a married daughter in San Jose, while in California.

Postal Receipts Up 19 Percent Here During '58

The Cameron post office showed a 19 per cent increase in postage receipts for 1958 over 1957, according to John Hays, postmaster.

Postage receipts for 1958 totaled $37,193.00. Last year's total was $31,150.00.

Hays said that about 8 per cent of the increase was attributed to the rate increase which went into effect in August. He added that the volume of mail at Christmas this year had been about the same although the post office was not as rushed during the last week as before.

He said that Cameronites had mailed early helping to avoid the last minute rush.

Hays added that all money taken in for postage stayed in Cameron to pay salaries for the 21 employees and for general maintenance.

"Unlike smaller post office operations, Cameron is able to pay its own expenses," Hays said.

The Cameron postmaster also announced that Joe Matula has been named money order clerk replacing Grady Cooper who retired December 31.

Matula has been with the local post office 36 years.

The Zaroskys have one other child, Beverly Ann, 4½. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Matt Zarosky Sr. of Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vanek, Schulenberg.

Pricklypear Is Discussed In New Bulletin

Pricklypear—good or bad? This is a question in the minds of many ranchmen who often ask if pricklypear should be controlled or kept as an emergency feed reserve.

For over a century pricklypear has been used for livestock feed. On Texas rangelands it usually is considered an undesirable plant but does have some economic value as supplemental forage for cattle and sheep during winter and drought periods.

Frequently, ranchmen burn pricklypear for a supplemental roughage for cattle during winter. Burning consists of singeing pricklypear spines with a hot flame from butane or oil pear burners. Pear burners are constructed and operate much like a blowtorch. The spines should be burned excessively livestock refuse to eat it, but they eat it readily when it is burned properly.

Chemical analysis of green pricklypear parts usually consumed by animals follow: crude protein, 1.4 to 4.4 per cent; digestible protein, 0.5 per cent; fat, 1.55 per cent; potash, 3.04 per cent; Phosphoric acid, 0.33 per cent; crude fiber, 8.65 per cent; calcium, 2.84 to 13.85 per cent; nitrogen-free-extract, 37.85 per cent; and water, up to 85 per cent. From this analysis it would be classed as a fair roughage.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has published a bulletin entitled "Pricklypear—Good or Bad." The bulletin contains discussions of pricklypear's forage value and its advantages and disadvantages as a range plant. It also has sections devoted to control measures and what management follows control.

This publication, B-806, is available free of charge from local county agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

Many diarmen are keeping cows that aren't carrying their full load, says J. W. Davis, extension dairy husbandman. He recommends systematic culling based on accurate records as a means of getting rid of these "loafers", that don't produce enough to return a profit on the feed and labor they require.

Carpets Keep New Look

With proper care wall to wall carpeting will retain the new look.

Correct cleaning methods have seemingly been a mystery and controversial even to carpet manufacturers. After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says: "it's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustre. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Income Tax Facts

Questions and Answers About Your Individual Income Tax Report for 1958, as Presented By The Texas Press Association

Questions and Answers About Your Individual Income Tax Report for 1958, as Presented By the Texas Press Association.

Must I file a federal income tax return for 1958?

If you are under 65 and had gross income of $600 or more, or over 65 and had gross income of $1200 or more, you must file a federal income tax return regardless of whether you owe tax or not, and it does not matter whether you are a man, woman or child; you are required to file a return by April 15, 1959.

It may be that you had income of less than $600 (or $1200) and income tax was withheld from your paychecks. In this case, you should file a tax return. It will show that you owe no tax and will act as a claim for refund of the withheld tax.

It is always a good idea to get these returns in as soon as possible. The sooner you file your return, the sooner you have your refund.

You are not taxed on your gross income, but on your taxable income. Taxable income is money or its equivalent in goods or services.

To arrive at taxable income, gross income is reduced by the cost of what you sold. For instance, if you sold merchandise for $2 that cost you $1, then you have a gross income of $2, but your taxable income would be only $1. What you received for the merchandise, less what it cost you. You would also deduct any expenses you had in connection with the sale.

The same is true of your services. For instance: John Taxpayer is a salesman and has many expenses of selling, traveling, etc. These costs are deducted from income on page one of the tax return and have no bearing on whether or not John uses short form 1040A, computing his tax from the tax table, or takes the standard deduction, or itemizes his deductions.

Joe Taxpayer, John's brother, is an employee. He started work this year. To get the job he paid an employment agency fee, joined his union, paid an initiation fee and monthly dues. Joe had to buy tools and supplies necessary to his job. Joe is required by his employer and the duties of this job to purchase and maintain special uniforms and work clothing not adapted to street wear.

These, and many other costs, Joe takes as deductions on page two of the return. They can be taken only if Joe files long form 1040 and itemizes his deductions. The deductions are lost if Joe files a short form 1040, form 1040A or takes the standard deduction.

There are many deductions that John Taxpayer, Joe Taxpayer and the merchant can take. That's what these columns are about. Be sure to read every column. For more details read next week's Income Tax Fax Feature.

Attention Mr. Produce Grower (Watermelons - Cantaloupes - Tomatoes - Etc.)

I am working early to get some good produce buyers into our county to buy our produce and am also working to establish a parking lot for incoming trucks.

If I can promote enough interest in this project, I will start early advertising in the eastern produce papers. By having a place for the outside trucks to stop at, they can be checked before they start loading your produce.

If you will come by and let me know how many acres you are going to have in each type of produce and when you will harvest it, I can advertise in the produce publications.

My charges will be the regular fee of 10 cents per hundred. This will pay the phone expense, advertising and a small fee for my work. The checks will be paid directly to you, the grower. Then you in turn will pay my commission. You will know what your produce is bringing.

One Down, Awaiting 51

A week of the New Year has passed and we wonder what the other 51 hold in store for Cameron, Milam County and the rest of the world.

Things are looking up, literally, for the world of science and rocketry with the Russians' boasting of their "Lunik" about to take its place as the tenth planet in our solar system.

The cosmic rocket is expected to go into orbit around the sun, an amazing achievement when we consider that Russian scientists were aiming for a turn around the moon.

Just as we rushed to catch up with "Sputniks" orbited by Russia, the U. S. will now race to fire a missile in orbit around the moon and beyond into the vastness of the sun's field of gravity.

Man seems to be leaving Mother Earth. And news such as Alaska's becoming the 49th state, oustripping Texas in size, seems less consequential.

Yet, the vanguard of scientific achievement is outracing the problems of growth throughout the world. While we look to the heavens for the new world, the individual on earth daily faces a more complex, competitive society.

Perhaps science's meteoric safari into space is making more room than either Texas or Alaska can provide for the upsurge in U. S. population.

But before rockets are taking people to other planets, the population will swell to greater numbers in Texas and Alaska and everywhere in the world.

So while Milam Counties look upward for the spiralling "Lunik's" etal, the very area their county lies in will grow anew in 1959.

THE LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Feels There's A Solution To All Problems Except People

Dear editor:
During the first week in January of this new year I have been reading predictions from the experts and have come to the conclusion they all make one serious mistake that undercuts the value of their prophecies.

It's easy for example to predict that man will conquer space, that he'll perfect a guided missile so powerful it'll circle the earth and hit him in the back of the head if he doesn't duck, that he'll perfect an automobile that doesn't need oil and a frying pan that doesn't require grease, and such similar mechanical things. In fact, there's probably not a single thing mechanical that man can't finally figure out, except maybe the need for plowing or maybe perpetual motion, although the latter may be around, at least the earth keeps moving in orbit without any visible engine, but where the experts make a mistake is in trying to predict a solution for people. There's not any.

You take Sec. Dulles. The more he flies, and the faster he gets there the more problems he runs into without any solutions. The world isn't any worse today than it was 50 years ago, it's just better reported. You can see what a alert journalism has led us into. There were just as many problems 100 years ago as there are now, and if we'd known about them we'd have thrown up our hands in the face of them just as fast as we do now.

Capital Report

Inaugural Activities Step-Up Austin Pace

By Vern Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—Holidays are over, but Austin is entering another period equally festive, active and exhausting for participants.

Tuesday (the 13th) the 56th Legislature convenes, bringing hundreds of new residents to the Capital City for five or six months or more. Their arrival steps up demand in many areas — for rent houses, hotel rooms, catering services, typewriters and stenographers.

A week later comes the Inauguration of Gov. Price Daniel, with a parade, swearing-in ceremony, Capitol reception and a multitude of balls and special parties.

Thereafter, if the usual pattern continues, there'll be more social activities for and by the visitors. Lawmakers' wives, separated from home-town friends and often from their husbands by long hours of debate and committee hearings, form their own luncheon clubs.

Many organizations send delegations to Austin during the session. These groups — over breakfast, luncheons, dinners, barbecues or maybe just coffee — meet with their legislators to tell them their special woes and hopes.

Even school children come by the busload to supplement their civics studies by observation.

Last session, a period of uncomfortable concern over ethics and lobbying, saw a dropping off in the lavishness of party-giving for legislators. This round may be even more grim and business-like. Lawmakers will face staggering problems in trying to pull the state out of debt and find money for new needs. No group would want to appear too flush lest it be seen as a likely tax target.

Whatever the social leanings of crystal globes or coffee in paper cups — their activities give Austin its liveliest, newsmost months. One frequent gallery-sitter, with no particular legislative interest, said he came regularly because a session provided spectators absolutely free "the excitement of a football game, the fervor of a revival meeting and more education than a year in the University."

Some events and issues on which interest is likely to focus immediately.

SPEAKERSHIP of the House of Representatives still is in doubt. Even those who claim it's "sewed up" know that pledges can come unhitched. There'll be a big crowd on hand to find out whether the secret vote hands the gavel to Waggoner Carr of Lubbock or Joe Burkett Jr. of Kerrville. Secretary of State Zolle Steakley will preside at the suspenseful opening session.

After the speaker is picked, attention will shift to committee assignments — who'll get the top jobs. There's also speculation as to how well members who've fought each other so hard in the speaker's race are going to get along afterward.

Money gets top billing on almost everybody's list of legislative problems.

Governor Daniel's recommended budget calls for spending $2,311,434,396 during 1959-61. An extra $125,000,000 in new tax revenue would have to be raised to cover it and wipe out the current deficit.

Overall, the governor's budget is a 10 per cent increase over present spending. Almost all the increase, he pointed out, would go to meet a growing population's need for basic state services — education, highways, welfare and hospital and correctional institutions. Governor Daniel said he had found "no public sentiment" for reducing these services.

Not included in this budget are several items for which there is certain to be demand, such as teacher pay raises and medical aid for persons on the welfare rolls.

EDUCATION, on all levels, will be a broth that many will try to stir.

For public schools, the Hale-Aikin Committee of 24 is presenting a lengthy report on ideas for improving programs. Included are more pay for teachers, longer school terms, special instruction for the gifted, driver education etc. Total cost of the additions would be $80,000,000 a year for the state, about $32,000,000 a year for local districts.

Both the Commission on Higher Education and Governor Daniel have recommended increased appropriations for state-supported colleges and universities. Both also recommended Arlington State College be made a senior college.

Not happy with these are (1) University of Texas officials who regard the UT appropriation share as too meager and (2) residents of three other towns, who also had wanted their junior colleges expanded.

Letters To The Editor

Sir:

I noticed in the papers that Texas is heading the list in highway accidents and deaths, and I wish to tell of a near triple accident that could have happened near your city about noon the day after Christmas.

My mother, my husband and I were returning to Waco from Houston, where we'd spent Christmas. My husband was driving, and as we were about a mile south of Cameron, a young woman, bare-headed and in a light green sedan, cut in from a farm-road at our left and completely ignored the STOP sign. She careened in on the main highway, just ahead of us, and could have been hit by us, as we were supposed to have had the right-of-way. Then, coming south another car almost hit her, but she careened merrily on and also on a curve passed an approaching car, narrowly missing a collision with him. She went so fast into Cameron we could not see her license plates, had we been able to I'd gladly give them. It was so unnecessarily inept, stupid, and near disastrous that we were horrified. No reason in the world for it, just a gas-happy girl showing off, who shouldn't be allowed to drive a car (when she has no concept of the responsibility driving places on a person). She could have wrecked four cars killed several people, all because she disregarded a stop sign, had no thought of the consequences. I hope your highway people will watch for her, at this stop sign. It might save several lives. (Of course she might not have been a local resident, but ten to one she is.)

Very truly yours,
S. A. B.

ONE GAME may not be a basis, but the Bowl games proved something we had suspected.
Iowa, not Louisiana State, had the best all-around team in college football. Forrest Evashevski's Hawkeyes showed two halfbacks of the Billy Cannon type in California.
To speak of LSU's Warren Rabb in the same breath with Iowa's Randy Duncan is football sacrilege. The all-America Iowa quarterback did his bit early and turned the rout over to subs.
Paul Dietzel's Bayou Bengals may be better this fall than Iowa the past, however, for only three graduates. It is a cinch they rank among the nation's top three, if not the very best.
But how can you call 'em national champs, when a no-offense consideration. Lot and parcel of land lying and being situated in Milam County being lot number 7 of block 7 of the Revised Praesel Subdivision.
J. T. Todd et ux to John Todd, $10 and other consideration. Lot certain tract of land known as Lot No. 33 being a part of the Jeanett Bowen League.

CAMERON, TEXAS' HERALD, JAN. 8, 1959 Page 7
talent for the Southwest Conference, University of Houston, the state colleges, numerous junior colleges, Oklahoma, LSU, Tulane, Oklahoma State, Tulsa so Air Force and Notre Dame just as well get into the battle. What is wrong with Southwest Conference basketball? Nothing that good coaching would not cure. Actually the big loop is receiving material comparable with others but possesses only three outstanding collegiate coaches. If you think the Texas Aggie basketball team is good, wait until they get Kelly Chapman, the junior college great, at mid-term. Bob Rogers' Cadets may wait to a Southwest Conference title. TCU, Rice, SMU are the leading contenders with Arkansas and Baylor leading dark horses, whatever that is. Only Texas seems sufficiently bare of talent to be counted out before they open. Three great little Southwest Conference Operators: Texas Aggie Neil Swisher, Dale Ball of Rice and SMU's Max Williams could play for anybody. A good tip: Start saving money for a bowl trip to Houston next December. It is almost a cinch the influential Houston group will get NCAA approval to stage a bowl game to compete with the Gator Bowl. The Floridians bragged of getting 41,000 out to watch Florida and Ole Miss. Can you imagine the horde Don Meredith and SMU would have pulled into 70,000 seat Rice Stadium with Mississippi as an opponent.

Experts At Glass, The Florist Advise 'Say It With Flowers'
When you say it with flowers in Cameron and Rosebud, Glass the Florist says it best. After 27 years in the wholesale and retail business, there is little doubt about the statement above. In fact two generations of Glass, the Florists, make floral service and selection a pleasure and delight regardless of the occasion. Co-owners Mr. and Mrs. Lester Glass and son, Donald Glass, present an array of flowers for that special occasion that makes a remembrance from Glass, the Florist something really special. Donald Glass points out that potted plants, sprays, corsages, bouquets, cut flowers and any other floral requirement are available in a spectrum of selections. Greenhouse Fresh He emphasizes that flowers by Glass are greenhouse fresh to their customers. Glass, the Florist grows most of their flowers in their own local greenhouses. Freshly picked, the flowers are beautifully arranged by the skilled floral decorators at Glass, the Florist. And they are delivered in fast, efficient manner by one of five trucks working in Cameron and a truck in Rosebud, he points out. "We consider the floral occasion in recommending types of flowers and their arrangement to our customers. We strive for the personal touch that flowers convey when they are given as a gift or special remembrance." Glass's floral arrangements for funerals are done with dignity and grace befitting the need, Glass says. And equal care is devoted to flower and scenic arrangements for weddings and parties. "Ask about our floral service for weddings," Glass recommends. "We assure you that you will receive the recommendations that 27 years of experience has proven will give a really beautiful wedding. Hydrangeas, mums, roses, name only a few that are available most of the year or in season for Glass customers."

The moon is only about 230,000 miles from earth and is about 2,000 miles in diameter.

Scientists tell us that of the nine planets orbiting around the sun, Pluto, the most distant planet, is 3,600,000 miles from the sun.
No one knows its exact size.

Even more impressive is the distance of millions of known stars from earth. They are so far away that science rates the distance in terms of light years, figuring on the speed of light at 186,000 miles per second and one light year equaling six trillion miles. Navigators say the North Star is 40 light years from earth or 240 trillion miles.

Trillion spelled out is 1,000,000-000,000. That's a bit further than from here to Buckholts.

So anybody overly concerned about the problems of time, distance and space can just hand a round while the earth tries to catch the next light ray to the sun, about an eight minute trip.

Overheard: "The author of a best selling novel received a letter from a woman saying: 'Please forward a copy of your book. If it's good, I will pay you by check.'"

Author's Reply: "Please send your check first. If it's good, I'll send you the book!"

Mrs. Don G. Humble and Mrs.
James Kahler were guests at a
March of Dimes coffee in Austin
Wednesday honoring the first lady of the state, Mrs. Price Daniel.
